OWNERS

Daniel F. Reeves

Daniel F. Reeves, majority stockholder and active director of the Los Angeles Rams, was born in New York City on June 30, 1912. He attended Newman Prep and graduated from Georgetown University. Mr. Reeves is a member of the Reeves grocery family of New York which sold a chain of 900 stores to Safeway in 1939. In 1941, he purchased the Cleveland Rams. Following the war, during which he served as a captain in the Army Air Forces, Mr. Reeves moved his club to Los Angeles. He also moved his stock brokerage business west. He is married and the father of five daughters and one son.

Fred Levy, Jr.

Fred Levy, Jr., was born in Louisville, Ky., on April 8, 1902. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He was partner with Reeves at the time of original purchase of Rams in 1941, sold his interest to Reeves in '43 and re-entered the partnership in 1947. He served as a Colonel in the Air Force during the war. Owns varied business interests. He makes his permanent home in Los Angeles and moved here from Kentucky. He is married and has two daughters.

Edwin W. Pauley

Edwin W. Pauley was born in Indianapolis, Ind., on Jan. 7, 1903. His parents moved to Pasadena in 1919 and Mr. Pauley attended Occidental College for two years and then the University of California, graduating in 1923. He was a tackle on the Oxy grid team and a member of the crew of California. Mr. Pauley, along with brother Harold, has long been associated with West Coast oil interests. He is the father of three sons and one daughter and lives in Beverly Hills.

Harold Pauley

Harold R. Pauley was born in Birmingham, Ala., on June 1, 1909. He attended Stanford University, graduating in 1928. He lives in Los Angeles and is the father of three daughters. Both Pauley's were tackles in their football days.

James "Hal" Seley

James H. Seley was born at Conneaut Lake, Penn., April 10, 1906. He attended Manual Arts High School and the University of Southern California, graduating in 1929. Mr. Seley is president of the Pacific Processing Co. He also owns a large stable of race horses.

Hampton Pool, Head Coach

Hampton Pool fashioned one of the National Football League's most remarkable coaching achievements in 1952, his first season as a head professional grid mentor.

He moved up from the backfield post he had held for two years and took the Rams reins after the club's league opener loss to Cleveland and Joe Stydahar's resignation. From there, Los Angeles climbed from the cellar to a Western Division tie with Detroit, winning its final eight league contests.

A painstaking student of the game, Pool dedicates himself completely to his profession. This, and an excellent background, made him well qualified to achieve success in his rookie season as an N.F.L. pilot.

Hamp played every position except tackle in his college and professional career as a player—fullback, quarterback, halfback, guard and center in school and end with the Chicago Bears.

Born March 11, 1915 in San Miguel, California, he attended Paso Robles High School and earned BA and MA degrees in education at Stanford following a freshman year at University of California and two years at West Point. Pool competed in both football and track at Stanford, 1938 and 1939, being named All Coast fullback in his senior year.

He joined the Chicago Bears in 1940 and George Halas, blessed with a bevy of established backs, shifted him to end. During Pool's four year tenure with the Midway Monsters, 1940-41-42-43, he was a part of some of the mightiest teams in the history of football.

In 1944, Hamp entered the Navy and became an underwater demolition man. His initial experience as a football coach came in the Navy when he was assigned to coach the Fort Pierce Naval Amphibious team. Pool's club, paced by Marshall Goldberg and Bill Daley, swept through a 10 game schedule unbeaten and untied in '44. The 1945 squad, decimated by the war's end, won six and lost six with only 18 men.

Released from the Navy as a Lieutenant (jg), Hamp was signed as backfield coach of the Miami Seahawks in 1946. The Miami club folded at the end of the season and Pool became backfield coach for the Chicago Rockets in 1947.

In 1948, he served as backfield coach for Bill Hubbard at San Jose State College, but quit after the season to enter private business, a chemical extracting plant in which he still holds an interest. Hamp helped coach at San Bernardino Valley College during 1949 and joined the Rams as backfield coach the following year.

Pool and his wife, Olive, have three children, Suzanne (11), Johnny (6) and Robert Norman, born just after the 1952 season. The baby was named after Robert (Dink) Templeton, Ex-Stanford track coach, Norman Standlee, one of Hamp's grid mates at Stanford, and the Ram's two quarterbacks of '52, Bob Waterfield and Norman Van Brocklin.

John Sauer, Backfield Coach

The 27-year-old Johnny Sauer became Ram backfield coach last February, following similar positions at West Point and University of Florida.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Johnny attended West Point and played on the great Army football teams of 1943-44-45 as a halfback and quarterback. He was a teammate of the Rams' Glenn Davis on the Black Knights of the Hudson national championship juggernauts of '44 and '45.

Army mentor Earl (Red) Blaik made Sauer his assistant backfield coach in 1947 and the following year moved him up as number one backfield aide at the age of 22.

In 1950, Johnny became backfield coach at University of Florida under former West Point assistant coach Bob Woodruff. He remained at the Florida institution for two years and then resigned to enter the real estate business in Dayton.

Sauer's father, Eddie (Tubby) Sauer was a 6-foot 4-inch, 330 pound tackle star with the professional Canton Bulldogs in the early 1920's. Johnny stands 5-feet 7-inches and weighs 175 pounds.

William Battles, Line Coach

Bill Battles, 38, was named Ram line coach last February, following a year in that capacity at the University of Indiana.

Born in Boston, Mass., he attended Brown University and earned All-East honors as a tackle on the school's teams of 1936-37-38. He also lettered in wrestling. Battles' college major was psychology.

Bill played tackle for the Newark, N. J. farm club for the Chicago Bears in 1940-41. One of his teammates was Gene Ronzani, present head coach of the Green Bay Packers.

In 1942, Battles served as a construction engineer for the Royal Navy in the British Isles while under employment for Great Britain and the United States. He entered the Marine Corps in 1943 and served two years as an instructor.

Battles was an assistant coach at Dartmouth for four years, 1945-48 and at Georgetown, 1949-50, and spent the 1951 season as a free-lance game scout for Eastern and Southern college teams and professional clubs.

Married, and the father of three children, Bill will be doing game scouting as well as line coaching for the Rams in 1953.

Howard (Red) Hickey, End Coach

Himself a standout end with the Rams for five years, "Red" Hickey has helped develop great Los Angeles' wingmen since 1949.

Hickey was a four sport letterman at Clarksville (Ark.) High School before entering the University of Arkansas. He earned All-Southwest Conference honors in both football and basketball with the Razorbacks, captained their 1940 grid team and participated in the Shrine East-West Classic that same season.

He joined the Rams in 1941 at Cleveland after being purchased from the Pittsburgh Steelers, who had drafted him. After finishing sixth among N.F.L. receivers in his rookie year, Hickey became a lieutenant in the Navy. He played with Great Lakes in 1942 and in '43 made the All-Service team while performing with Bainbridge Navy.

"Red" followed this with 13 months as a gunnery officer on a tanker and Liberty ship and rejoined the Rams in time to play with their world championship club of 1945.

During his four years as Ram end coach, Hickey has seen two of his proteges, Tom Fears and Elroy Hirsch, ring up three all-time N.F.L. records and tie for another.

He lives in Los Angeles with his wife and two sons.

Eddie Kotal, Chief Scout & Backfield Asst.

Associated with the Rams since 1946, Eddie Kotal heads up the club's extensive player scouting department. He probably knows more football players and coaches than anyone in the game.

Ed attended the University of Illinois in 1921 and then switched to Lawrence College, from which he graduated in 1925. Joining the Green Bay Packers as a halfback that same year, he played pro ball for five seasons and was a member of the Packers' first world championship team in 1929.

He was head coach at Lawrence in 1930 and then moved to Wisconsin State Teachers where he was head coach and athletic director from 1932 to 1942. Kotal became backfield coach and scout for Green Bay from 1943 until coming to Los Angeles in '46.

Eddie is credited for much of the success Los Angeles has had in unearthing such players as Paul Younger (Grambling), V. T. Smith (Abilene Christian), Ends Larry Brink (Northern Illinois State) and Andy Robustelli (Arnold) and Dick Lane (Scottsbluff, Nebr. J.C.)

He is married and has two boys and a girl. Eddie shoots golf in the 70's.

Glenn Davis 5.11 175 28 2 West Point

Recognized as one of the greatest collegiate running backs in football history. Native of Claremont, Calif., setting national interscholastic scoring record of 236 points at nearby Bonita High in 1942. Attended West Point with twin brother, Ralph. Played football for Army, 1943-44-45-46, being unanimous All American from his sophomore year on. Set three N.C.A.A. records: 20 touchdowns in one season (1944), 11.51 yard average per carry (1945) and 11.74 yards gain per play (1945). Latter two marks still stand. Won 11 letters in four major sports. Teamed as "Mr. Outside" with Fullback Felix (Doc) Blanchard (Mr. Inside) on Army's unbeaten national championship teams of 1944 and 1945. Team was unbeaten in '46, but tied by Notre Dame, 0-0. Davis won the following national awards for football: Heisman Trophy, Walter Camp Award, Maxwell Memorial Trophy, Los Angeles Times Trophy, Helms Foundation Award (3 times). After graduation from West Point, Davis served three years in service, including one in Korea. Led Rams in ground gaining in rookie year of 1950 when he also caught 42 passes. Sustained knee injury that hampered him in '51 and he stayed out of football to rest knee last season. Rams obtained in trade with Detroit.

Jack Dwyer 5.11 175 26 2 Loyola of L.A.

Played 1951 with Washington Redskins and signed by Rams as free agent after he was released early in '52 season. Intercepted four passes and scored twice on fumble recoveries—54 against San Francisco and 12 against Chicago Bears. Plays defensive halfback spot. Attended Hamilton High, played at Los Angeles City College, 1947-48, Loyola of Los Angeles, 1949-50. Hobby is cartooning, which he plans to make his profession after football career.

Norbert Hecker 6.2 191 26 2 Baldwin-Wallace

Two year defensive halfback veteran. Also used at offensive end. Attended Olmstead Falls (Ohio) High. At Baldwin Wallace he lettered 1947-50 in football and also won four track letters, and two in basketball and baseball. Rams' 6th draft choice in 1951.

Dick Lane 6.1 190 25 1 Scottsbluff J.C.

National Football League's rookie surprise of 1952. After coming to Ram camp unheralded with only one season of junior college football (Scottsbluff (Nebr.) J. C.) and some service football experience, Lane established new all-time pro record by intercepting 14 passes. Scored touchdowns with two of his thefts—80 yards against Green Bay and 42 against Pittsburgh. Attended Anderson High in Austin, Texas. Served four years in Army. Rams signed as free agent.

Woodley Lewis 6.0 195 23 8 Oregon

Ram utility back. Intercepted 12 passes for 275 yards in rookie year of 1950. Last season blossomed into fine punt and kickoff return man. Was second in league in punt returns with 19 for 351 yards, an 18.5 average, going the distance with a pair—82 vs. San Francisco and 65 vs. Dallas. Had best rushing average on club in '52—6.0 on 19 carries for 115 yards. Attended Los Angeles Manual Arts High and lettered 1946-47 at Los Angeles City College and 1948-49 at University of Oregon where he was teammate of Ram Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin on the Duck's '48 Cotton Bowl team. Rams' 8th draft choice in 1950.

Brad Myers 6.1 195 23 0 Bucknell

Myer's football exploits at Bucknell, 1950-51-52, had alumni recalling two of the school's earlier grid greats—Clark Hinkle (1932) and Christy Matthewson (1901), the latter also a baseball pitcher of some note. Brad's three year rushing total of 2622 yards is second only to the East's all-time record of 3351 set by Ram Glenn Davis in four years at West Point. Also lettered three years as baseball outfielder and in track where he ran 100 yard dash in 10 seconds. Rams' 9th draft choice in 1953.

KickerBen Agajanian 6.0 215 34 5 New Mexico

One of professional football's finest field goal kickers from 1945 through 1949. His field goal record during that period includes: 1945—Pittsburgh (4), 1946—Hollywood Bears (13), 1947-48—Los Angeles

Dons (15-5), 1949—New York Giants (8). In 1947 he booted a 53 yard field goal to set a league record with the Dons. Noted for ability to boot the long fielders. Will be strictly a kicking specialist with Rams—kicking off, conversions, field goals. Attended San Pedro High, Compton College and starred as an end and tackle at New Mexico in 1940 and 1941 before entering the Army Air Corps for three years. Operates a sporting goods business in Long Beach (Calif.) Rams lured "Aggie" out of three year retirement and signed him as free agent. Lost four toes off his kicking foot in a freight elevator accident at New Mexico 12 years ago.

Ram Attendance Figures In 1952

The Los Angeles Rams established a new all-time football attendance record for a single season by attracting a total of 944,744 fans to 20 games in 1952. Included are seven pre-season games, 12 league encounters and the Western Conference playoff with Detroit.

Eight games in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum drew 474,968 spectators for an average of 59,371. The 12 away contests were played before 469,776. L.A.'s contest with the College All Stars at Soldiers Field, Chicago was the season's attendance high mark—88,316.

Homer Marshmann, representing prominent group of Cleveland businessmen, granted franchise by National League on Feb. 13, 1937 . . . Coached by Hugo Bezdek, former Penn State great, team wins one game in first year . . . Assistant Coach Art Lewis takes over ball club after four straight losses in 1938 and team wins four of remaining seven games . . . Earl "Dutch" Clark, one of pro football's immortals, becomes head coach in 1939 and Art Lewis remains as assistant . . . Parker Hall joins team and is voted League's most valuable player . . . Rams win five, lose five to hit .500 for the first time . . . In June of 1941, Daniel F. Reeves and Fred Levy, Jr., purchase Cleveland franchise from Marshmann and immediately hire Billy Evans, former sports columnist, American League umpire and general manager of the Cleveland Indians, as the Rams' General Manager . . . The coaching staff is retained . . . Team wins first two games in '41, then drops nine straight to finish in cellar . . . Evans resigns . . . Team enjoys moderate success in '42, winning five and losing six . . . Charles 'Chile' Walsh has replaced Art Lewis as Assistant Coach and Radio Announcer Bob Kelley is acting as Club Secretary . . . Lieutenant Reeves and Major Levy are with Uncle Sam . . . Chile Walsh becomes Head Coach in 1943 when Clark resigns, but the team is given permission to suspend operations for a season . . . Levy sells his interest in club to Reeves . . . Ram players loaned to other clubs for '43 season . . . Walsh appointed General Manager in 1944 and he in turn names Aldo "Buff" Donelli head coach . . . Pick-up team loses six, wins four . . . Donelli inducted into service prior to '45 season and Walsh brings in brother Adam Walsh as head coach . . . George Trafton signed to handle line. Bob Snyder returns to old team as backfield coach . . . Also joining the club was a rookie from the West Coast, Bob Waterfield. Rams strike bonanza, win nine games, lose one and defeat Washington Redskins on frozen field, 15 to 14, for championship . . . Waterfield named League's most valuable player . . . Adam Walsh named Coach of the Year . . . Reeves moves franchise to Los Angeles in 1946 . . . Success doesn't follow, however, and Rams drop four, tie one and win six . . . Adam and Chile Walsh both resign . . . Bob Snyder named head coach, Joe Stydahar of Bear fame becomes assistant coach . . . Reeves assumes duties of general manager . . . Injuries topple big hopes for 1947 and team wins six, loses six . . . Edwin and Harold Pauley, along with Fred Levy, purchase interests in the club . . . Early in 1948, Clark Shaughnessy joins staff as Advisory Coach and appointed head coach Sept. 3 when Bob Snyder resigns . . . Team wins four of last five games for season record of six wins, five losses and one tie . . . An early season splurge, which saw the Rams win six straight, gives the club its first Western Division Championship in 1949, although the Philadelphia Eagles won the NFL title with a 14-0 victory in the rain at the Coliseum in December . . . League merge with Rams only remaining pro club in Los Angeles . . . Joe Stydahar takes over as Ram head coach in February, succeeding Shaughnessy
